How Did I Do?

Writing genre: Personal Narrative

- Does your personal narrative have a logical sequence of events?
- Does your personal narrative use details to communicate sights, sounds, feelings, tastes, and smells?
- Was your personal narrative written in a lively style with a variety of different sentence types?
- Did your personal narrative allow your readers to relive the experience you were describing?
- What goals did you have for your personal narrative? Did you meet them?
- How did feedback from your readers change your view of your personal narrative?
- What was the most effective part of your personal narrative?
- What do you want to improve the next time you write a personal narrative?
